

2. Legislation introduced by Chairman Johnston of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee presently contains a provision (Section 10(c)), which provides that pay increases comparable to those provided by this bill granted by administrative action pursuant to law may be made retroactively effective on the same basis as if they had been provided by this bill. It is felt that this provision will serve to authorize CIA administratively to adopt any pay increases authorized by such legislation and will also permit such pay increases to be retroactive if final Congressional action includes a retroactive provision. 12 Jan '55
